The United States Treasurer Makes His Report

OF OUR FINANCIAL CONDITION

For the Fiscal Year Ending June 30 Improved Condition of the Public Debt-Total Revenues,

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 .- The treasurer of the United States, E. H. Nebeker, has submitted his annual report for the year ended June 30, 1892. The net ordinary revenues of the government for the fiscal year were $854,937,-784, a decrease of $37,674,663 as compared with the year before. The net ordinary expenditures were $345,023,-330, a decrease of $10,349,354. The from $37,239,762 to $9,914,453. Including the public debt, the total receipts for the year were $736,401,296, and the expenditures $684,019,289. Considered the fiscal year. with respect to the effect upon the treasury, the receipts are divided into two general classes, of which the first, comprising the ordinary revenues, the receipts from loans and the deposits for the retirement of national bank notes, increase for the time being the cash available for the uses of the gov-ernment, while the second, arising from the issue of gold, silver and cur-rency certificates. United States notes and treasury notes, tend to swell the assets of the treasury, but do not affect these classes the figures show an excess of eighty-eight millions of expendi-tures over revenues in 1891, and one of the second class there was an ex-cess of nearly $69,000,000 of receipts in the tormer year and one of $30,000,000 in the latter. As compared with 1891, there was a salvage of upwards of $14,-000,000 of interest, out of which a sur-plus was realized, notwithstanding the pius was realized, notwithstanding the cutting down of revenues by legislation. Analyzing the true condition of the treasury and setting aside the trust funds, the treasurer shows that there was a balance of cash and deposits in banks amounting to $207,110.452 at the beginning of the year and $165,518,151 at the end. Of the former amount $119,000,000 and of the latter $114,500,000 was gold. The success which has attended the efforts of the department to maintain a strong gold reserve is attended the efforts of the department to maintain a strong gold reserve is considered satisfactory in view of the heavy disbursements. The amount of public debt is given as $1,545,996,591 on June 30, 1891, and $1,588,464,144 ou June 30, 1892. The loans resting on the credit of the United States were cut down from $1,005,806,500 to $968,218,840, while those secured by full deposits in the treasury increased from $540,190,031 to $620,245,304.

By eliminating that part of the paper corrency, which is purely represented, consisting of certificates of deposit and treasury notes, the effective stock is found to have been $1,753,953,745, an increase of $70,000,000.

The Year's Monetary History, The monetary history of the past year, however, has been peculiar, both in the movements of gold, which have been increased, and in the other changes of the season, but have this of the effective stock of money from September to September was only $50,000,000. Discussing the changes in the amount and composition of the money stock, the treasurer finds that the increase which marked the fiscal year was the result of the production of nearly $17,000,000 of gold in excess of the industrial consumption, a fresh istogether with the changes in the stock of silver. The gold exported between January and September was taken Up to the end of June the withdrawals were made by the presenting on to the cossation of shipments mostly upon tenders of United States notes

Of the aggregate stock of money at the end of the fiscal year $771,252,313 was no the treasury and mints, leaving $1,003,081,836 in the hands of the people. The holdings of the treasury increased $1,000,000 and the amount in circulation $100,000,000 during the year. Figures are given to show that each year during the last ten there has occorred in the month of January a considerable diminution of the gold reserve of the treasury averaging $10,000,000, which has been succeeded in February by a tendency toward recovery. It has shown that the decline has occurred yearly in the face of a to the country. In the last ten me of January the treasury gained $22,-000,000 of the metal and the country $25,000,000. It thus appears that the depletion of the reserve is the cousetion of gold certificates, and this is shown, grows out of the difficulties which the treasury encounters in the return of the notes and silver certificates of small denominations which were sent out in the autumn for mov-

COIN OF THE REALM suffers, until a working balance of suffers, until a working balance of other material can be got together. The issues of United States paper cur rency amounted to $376,726,583, exceeding these of any previous year. The nearest approach to this total was $10,000,000 in the year before, and the next nearest, $291,000,000 in 1883. Of the whole amount $298,000,000 took the place of like kinds and amounts destroyed, while $78,000,000 consisted of fresh issues. Satisfactory changes have troyed, while $78,000,000 consisted of fresh issues. Satisfactory changes have been affected in the condition of the fractional silver coinage, through the liberal appropriations of the past two years for this purpose.

There has been a slight decrease in the amounts of counterfeit silver coin and paper currency presented at the treasury office. There was an increase of over $20,000,000 during the year in the amount of United States bonds held for the security of national bank circulation and a decrease of $10,000,000 in the amounts held as security for public deposits. A total addition of $1,664,000 was made to the par value of the securities composing the Pacific railroad sinking funds.

In proportion to the volume of national bank notes in circulation the redemptions continue heavy, having demptions continue heavy, having amounted to upwards of $99,000,000 in

NAMED HIS FUTURE SEAT. Stockbridge Confident of Re-election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 .- Senator Stockbridge seems to be serenely confident of re-election from Michigan. He has alchamber which he intends to occupy for any years from the 4th of March. After every election senators always take time by the forelock and apply for the seats of senators who fall outside the breastworks. These applications the breastworks. These applications are carefully recorded, and the first to apply are the first to be served with the new seats. Senator Stockbridge had a very good seat on the republican side of the house, but it has not quite the correct range of the president's eye, and he has applied for one nearer the front and the center of the hall. The venerable Capt. Issae Barrett, who comes down to the modern senate from the "Vast souphre stately grayward of the "Vast, sombre, stately graveyard of the past," is the custodian of this list of applications and he considers it a sacred applications and he considers it a sacred duty to keep his own counsel. The number of the seats the senator has pre-empted, therefore, cannot be given, but the fact is known. Senator McMillan has expressed himself satisfied with his present seat, and will make no effort to change his location on the senator floor.

Safe Blowers Rob a Bank at Liberty, Mo.,

OF MANY THOUSAND DOLLARS

They Might Have Had More, But Were Frightened Away-Kansas City Police Know Them.

LIBERTY, Mo., Nov. 27 .- Expert cracksmen, with the use of dynamite and the latest improved tools, succeeded in cracking the big safe in the First National bank of this city last night and securing a sum of money, waich, though it cannot be fixed definitely, owing to the reticence of the officials of the bank, is variously estimated at from $11,000 to $15,000 by those who are in a position to know. The burglars were scared away before they had completed their work and did not get into the reserve vault.

The first intimation of the robbery came at half past 10 o'clock this morning, when County Treasurer Rilet, who has an office in the building adjoining the bank, went to his office. When he entered the room he saw that the floor of the building was caving in, and on investigation he found that there had been a terrific explosion in the bank which had almost wrecked both buildings. He at once gave the alarm, and upon search it was learned that burgiars had been at work successfully in the bank. They had entered by means of skeleton keys, which had opened the bank door and another leading to the room in which was the vault. They then drilled holes through the outer door of the vault and with a charge of powder blew out the time lock which had been set to open on Monday morn-ing. Inside this was a steel door to the burglar proof department.

Might Have Had More. The only money known to be outside of this door was $300 deposited late Saturday afternoon by the Liberty Building and Loan association. They used dynamite to effect an entrance through this second acor. They must have used a terrific charge, for the heavy start door was so completely. have used a terrific charge, for the heavy steel door was so completely blown to pieces that not even a good-sized piece of it has been found. This gave the burglars access to all the money which the bank had in circulation on Saturday, and the deposits of merchants on that day being unusually heavy, $12,000 is considered a low estimate of what they got. On the floor of the bank was left several sticks of dynamite and a number of tools, show-of the bank was left several sticks of dynamite and a number of tools, showing that the men went off in a burry. It was learned that four suspicious looking characters had been seen in town on Saturday afternoon and evening. They were total strangers. Two were old men and two were apparently about 20 years old. One of them about 20 years old. One of them bought a large quantity of putty just before dark, and this was used with the dynamite to deaden the sound. Leaving the bank the burglars went to the house of James Steele and stole a carriage and a team of horses with which they made their escape. The sheriff and a posee traced them as far as the Milwaukee railroad bridge over the Missouri at Kansas City, where the horses were found in an almost dying condition, having been driven furious-ly. Here all trace of the men was lost, but the officials of Kansas City are working on the case and tonight are, but refuse to give names. It is stated that they got across the river by means of a boat which confederates had in waiting.

FRIGHTENED TO DEATH. Indian Squaw's Joke Was Too Much for

Emma Feussner. New York, Nov. 27 .- Seventeen-yearold Emma Feussner of No. 204 Prospect street, Brooklyn, was employed as a narse in a family in Green Point. On Saturday night she was in the parlor in her employer's house. The chil-dren were playing some games. A long knock came to the parlor door. Some one asked Emma to open it; she at first refused, but finally with trembling hand turned the knob and pulled the door ajar. She was confronted on the threshold by a person dressed in the costume of an Indian squaw, red blanket, big feathers and all. The girl gave a loud shriek and staggering back fell in con-vuisions. Medical aid was at once procured and the girl removed to her home. During the night she was again seized with convulsions and remained unconscious until her death the following night. The girl who personated the Indian squaw is prostrated with horror.

NATURAL GAS FAILURE.

Ohio Wells Are Giving Out and Stock holders Are Discouraged.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 27.—All of Ohio using natural gas is greatly aroused over the unmistakable evidences that the supply is slowly failing. The pressure in the great Mercer county fields has decreased from 400 pounds to 75 and 80 pounds, and new wells are being constantly drilled in what has been a discouraging effort to fulfill contracts to supply gas to cities on the big pipe line. At Dayton, Springfield, Sidney, Troy and Piqua, to facilitate the distribution of gas, a new-fangled force-pump is being used to hurry the gas through the mains. All manufacturers have been cut off. and nothing larger than a hotel is now being supplied with the convenient fuel. The pressure is getting so unrenable and variable that hotels have taken out their burners. MURDER AND DANCING. Two Deaths Caused by the Jealousy of EAGLE PASS, Tex., Nov. 27 .- News is received of a terrible tragedy at Villa Musquize, Mexico, at a ball. Jesul Gazan had engaged a young woman, Miss Beatrice Fuentes, for all the dances. Galan came late to the ball, and when he arrived the girl was dancchanged from a waitz to a square dance without intermission, and the couple kept on dancing. Galan signaled the musicians to cease. They did so, and Galan took Guajard to task for dancing with a girl whom he had engaged.

Just then a third suitor of Miss
Fuentes, named McGowan approached and protested against Galan's conduct Galan fired two pistol shots into Guajard, killing him instantly, then turned his pistol on McGowan and fired. The latter, however, sprang nimbly to one side and the builet entered the temple of a young nam named Miguel Long, causing instant death. The assassin after making two ineffectual attempts to shoot the young woman, managed to reach the door and disappeared in the darkness.
